

VALENCIA TO SEND MANY EXHIBITS TO FAIR

Products of the Productive Soil of Belen District Will Occupy Prominent Positions at State Exposition Here.

(Special Correspondence to the Herald)

Belen, N. M., Aug. 30.—Valencia county will, in all probability, be represented by an attractive exhibit at the state fair in Albuquerque. Plans are now under way for as extensive an exhibit as can be prepared.

Valencia's soil is especially productive and of late years considerable advancement has been made along agricultural lines. As a result the quality of the crops is steadily being improved, and on this account it is reasonable to state that the exhibit from this county will compare favorably with that of any other county in the state.

An effort will be made to gather from various parts of the county specimens of the finest products, which are numerous. Alfalfa and wheat will occupy the most prominent places among the grains, while in the fruit and vegetable line there will be a large variety. Around Belen there are some excellent gardens, where vegetables of all sorts are raised; the soil being very favorable.

Among the fruits which will be exhibited will be late peaches, pears, plums, apples and others. The Rio Grande valley yield of fruit this year is also very satisfactory. Consequently, taken all in all, the fair exhibit from Valencia county will in all probability be a very good one.

The man who gave his name as Jones, who was mixed up in the shooting affray on the streets of Belen on Saturday night, was taken before Justice of the Peace Barron yesterday for a preliminary hearing. The evidence of the witnesses produced by the prosecution was not sufficient to warrant binding the man over to await the action of the grand jury, and consequently he was released.

Mr. Shultz, manager of the Southwestern Land and Irrigation company, which has purchased a large tract of land near Las Lamas, was in Belen on Tuesday on matters of business.

Col. William M. Berger, editor of the Belen Tribune, who has been confined to his home for some time on account of illness, is again able to transact business.

Erlie H. Lester of Albuquerque was in the city on Tuesday on matters of a business nature.

It is reported that Engineer H. L. Abbott, who has been in the Albuquerque hospital for the past week, is getting along nicely and it is thought that he will be able to return to his home in the course of a few days. Mr. Abbott's family has been in Albuquerque with him for several days.

Santurio Barron, editor of El Hispano Americano, spent Monday in Isleta on a business trip.

TUCUMCARI SLOGAN IS LIVE ONE

While Others Deliberate, Tucumcari Acts' is Winner of Contest in Boosting Town Editor Gets the Prize.

(Tucumcari Sun)

The slogan contest for the city of Tucumcari closed the 15th of August, and out of the many slogans submitted, after due consideration, the committee selected to act as judges, consisting of Donald Stewart, Reed Holman and George Evans, selected the following: "While others deliberate, Tucumcari acts." This slogan was submitted by L. L. Klinkefeller, editor of the Quarantine. Klinkefeller is always there with the goods when it comes to boosting Tucumcari, and his natural orignality stood him in good hand when it came to figuring out a good slogan. Tucumcari has no more loyal friend than L. L. Klinkefeller. He holds this city up to the world as the ideal and the coming metropolis of the southwest. It is fitting that "Kline" should father the slogan which will help to make this city famous throughout the days to come. May the slogan and the author live long.

Standard Gauge Will Be Put in Prediction of Railroad Men; Will Benefit San Juan and Northwest New Mexico

(Special Correspondence to the Herald)

Belen, N. M., Aug. 31—Governor Mills yesterday made public the names of appointees from New Mexico to the National Conservation congress to be held at Kansas City, Sept. 25, 26, 27, and the Public Lands convention, which will convene in Denver, September 28 and remain in session for three days.

The conservation congress will take up the question of dry farming in some detail and the discussions will be a large measure have to do with conditions in New Mexico and the southwest, so that a great deal of interest attaches to this gathering in

New Mexico. Speakers of national prominence will speak at this gathering.

The public lands convention will take up the question of the disposition of the vast resources that are still under government control and it is expected that both sides in the controversy will be heard from as speakers with such opposite views as Pincher and President Taft will be heard.

The following New Mexicans have been appointed by Governor Mills to attend the conservation congress:

APPLE HARVEST AT ITS HEIGHT NEXT WEEK

New Packing House Will Facilitate Work of the Shippers; Long Distance Record of Shipping Alfalfa.

Dexter, N. M., Aug. 31.—The new packing house of the Roswell Fruit association is practically completed and the force of packers who have been working at A. E. Macy's packing house will move into the new building today. Owing to a change in the plans of an additional shed 14 x 40 for storage purposes across the south end of the building, the contractors, Hamilton & Wheaton, have not quite finished that part of it, but about two days more work and they will be ready to turn everything over complete to the management. This is the last work as it has been only about two weeks since the work was started, and there has been some delay in not getting the required lumber as they needed it. This is a fine, commodious building and will accommodate a large force of packers with conveniences for handling an immense quantity of fruit. The packing force will be small for a few days, as the main crop of apples is not quite ready to pick, but in about two weeks it is expected this building will be completely occupied from corner to corner with busy workers and it will be an interesting sight.

R. M. Ware, who is the local buyer of alfalfa hay for the Hagerman Alfalfa Mill company, has orders to ship five cars of hay to Virginia. Part of this order has already been shipped, two cars leaving for that destination last week. This breaks the record so far as known for the long distance shipping of hay from this point, and only goes to prove that the demand for the products of Dexter and the Pecos valley is coming from all parts of the United States.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE MESILLA VALLEY

What with a tobacco factory assumed, canning and alfalfa meal factories in contemplation, the valley need worry mighty little about its future, as manufacturers galore will soon infest the valley and help Las Cruces become the largest city in New Mexico.—Las Cruces Citizen.
